The ultra high-speed courier service

A user's opinion

Sandrine Berland

After-sales service manager, electronic components, Lyon

« Our customers are located all over France and their business activities cannot be interrupted. In case of an emergency (parts required for repairs, out of stock parts, special operations, etc.) TOP ONE enables us to make fast, reliable deliveries on the same day to locations all over France, thereby ensuring that our customers' business can continue as usual. To do this, I just have to call my TOP ONE representative and the courier is then dispatched. I can choose between the simple TGV delivery (station-station) and the door-station or door-to-door service, depending on the customer's needs. The responsiveness of the service allows me to make extremely urgent deliveries with complete ease. »
